ENGLISH CORN CROP. A Duil Yield Is Predicted by the Mark

LONDON, May 16 .- The Mark Lane organ of the corn trade, says Express, ergan of the corn trade, says today that the crops in England are backward and it is doubtful whether there will be a full yield of any cereal. Much rain is wanted. English wheat in London averages 32 shillings and 4 pence, a price which has induced increased sales, which last week were above the average. Nevertheless the markets are generally languid and a decline of a shilling is likely. Millers approve the English samples that are being offered and for a fortnight they bought spiritedly, but menaced by the vast supplies of American wheat they do not dare to accumulate.
